Adopt an Orangutan for yourself or a friend today, and give orangutans a future!

Orangutans are at grave risk of extinction and the Borneo Orangutan Survival Foundation needs your help to save them. Clearing of orangutan habitat for agriculture, as well as hunting and illegal trade of orangutans, results in the loss of perhaps thousands of orangutans every year. But the Borneo Orangutan Survival Foundation, with your help, CAN make a difference. We look after over 700 orangutans, many of them young orphans. With round-the-clock care, these orangutans are taught the skills they need to survive in the forest to which we eventually release them.

You CAN give orangutans a future.

Adopt Grendon, Kesi or Lomon for only £25 a year, or £2 a month by Standing Order. In exchange, you will receive an official certificate of adoption, your orangutan's personal background story and an A4 colour photo of your orangutan suitable for framing. In addition, you will receive updates at least every six months.

An adoption packet makes a wonderful gift for a friend or family member who loves animals. It is also an educational and exciting way for classrooms to fundraise while learning more about orangutan conservation issues.

By adopting Grendon, Kesi or Lomon, you are helping to provide care for not only your orangutan, but all the orangutan orphans that are looked after at Borneo Orangutan Survival Foundation. For as little as £2 a month, you can make a difference to an orangutan. You CAN give orangutans a future.

Grendon

Grendon, star of Orangutan Diary on BBC1, steals everyone's heart. Looking remarkably like Homer Simpson in miniature, Grendon is a laugh a minute with his cheeky antics. Grendon is popular with staff and orangutans alike at the Borneo Orangutan Survival Foundation.

Kesi

Kesi's hand was chopped off when plantation workers killed her mother with a machete. Now Kesi is the top pupil in Orangutan Forest School at the Borneo Orangutan Survival Foundation. Champion tree-climber and nest-builder, Kesi makes an excellent role model for newly-arrived orphans.

Lomon

Lomon spent years chained up in a wooden box, and when he was rescued, he weighed only 1/3 of what he should have. Through the love and attention his new caretakers at the Borneo Orangutan Survival Foundation, Lomon has now gained not only the weight he needed, but also his self-confidence.
